A light will burn brightly G Capo IV

©Martin Browne 9th February 2008

G C G
And a light will burn brightly, it will guide my way home

D G
'Cross the moor and the mountain, through the wave and the foam

C G
When the mist rolls around us or the gale drowns our cries

D
Your voice is the clear call of hope

C D G
You're the light in my eyes

As the dawn wakes the day and the sun climbs the sky
Its light is eclipsed by the smile in your eyes
And when we're apart I will hear your sweet song
It will soar like a hawk on the breeze
And will carry me on

And a light will burn brightly, it will guide my way home
'Cross the moor and the mountain, through the wave and the foam
When the mist rolls around us or the gale drowns our cries
Your voice is the clear call of hope
You're the light in my eyes

And when the night comes around, when the day's labours end
I know you'll be waiting, a lover, a friend
Your warm voice will greet me, turn my frown to a smile
You're the calm at the end of the storm
You're my journey's last mile

D C G
Just think, how the years have rolled by
D C D
But still, you're the light in my eyes

And a light will burn brightly, it will guide my way home
'Cross the moor and the mountain, through the wave and the foam
When the mist rolls around us or the gale drowns our cries
Your voice is the clear call of hope
You're the light in my eyes