G G/C G
We sat and watched the sky for hours
F C G
Its subtle changing hues
G G/C G
Ne'er a single word was spoken
C D
It seemed as if we knew
C D
That words are wasted on such moments
G C C/B Am Am/G
When two hearts beat in time
G G/C G F C D7
And though we thought we could ignore, those glaring danger signs
C D G
We knew that we had crossed that line

We took the car and drove for miles
We never once looked round
Never daring to confront
A truth we both had found
Then through the rain a shaft of sunlight
Engulfed a single tree
Its trembling leaves, like whispering tongues, declared it was a sign
We knew that we had crossed that line

C D G
Why did we think it would be simple?
C D G
Are we not masters of our fate?
C D G G/F# Em
Who knows what waits around each corner?
Am C D
Whose shadow falls upon the gate?

There at the borders of the ocean
Wild breakers drummed the beach
We peered in vain to find the island
It was beyond our reach
Should we set sail for the horizon?
Forsake the sheltering shore?
Far too late the anchor's weighed and now the Pole Star shines
This time we've really crossed that line
